

GR UNDERGRADUATE COURSES | SPRING 2017

Geography at Colorado State University focuses on providing undergraduate students with a broad background in geographic thinking with an emphasis on the traditional geographic focus of understanding dynamic interactions between humans and the environment in an era of rapid global change.

GR 100 Introduction to Geography (3 Credits)

Major geographic themes applied to selected regions; physical environment, human-land relationships, regional analysis.

SEC 1:MWF 1-1:50pm	CLARK A 206	Dr. Merrill Johnson
SEC 2:TR 2-3:15pm	GLOVR 130	Dr. Jason Sibold
SEC 3:MWF 10-10:50am	CLARK A 206	Dr. Merrill Johnson

GR 304/WR 304 Sustainable Watersheds (3 Credits)

Effects of climate, land use, and water use on the sustainability of water quantity and quality.

SEC 1:TR 2-3:15pm	EDDY 212	Dr. Stephanie Kampf
-------------------	----------	---------------------

GR 320 Cultural Geography (3 Credits)

Geographic analysis of cultural phenomena, elements emphasizing human-land relationships and spatial patterns of agriculture, cities, language, religion.

SEC 1:TR 12:30-1:45pm	MILSC 115	Dr. John Lindenbaum
SEC 2:TR 11am-12:15pm	MILSC 115	Dr. John Lindenbaum

ANTH 352 Geoarchaeology (3 Credits)

Analytical techniques, concepts, and field methodologies from the earth sciences to better understand the archaeological record.

SEC 1:TR 9:30-10:45am	CLARK C 360	Dr. Andrew Bliss
-----------------------	-------------	------------------

GR 410 Climate Change: Science, Policy, Implications (4 Credits)

Implications and consequences for earth systems including the cryosphere, hydrosphere, and biosphere.

SEC 1:TR 2-3:15pm	SHEP 120	Dr. Andrew Bliss
-------------------	----------	------------------

GR 448 Forest Biogeography and Climate Change (3 Credits)

Forest adaptation and conservation in relation to global change with a focus on climate change.

SEC 1:TR 3:30-4:45pm	MILSC 105	Dr. Jason Sibold
----------------------	-----------	------------------

Must have written consent of instructor

GR 487 Internship

GR 495 Independent Study

