

Christina Curley

200 Blevins Court

Fort Collins, CO 80521

Christina.Curley@colostate.edu · (970) 305-1962

Education

Ph.D., Economics, (expected May 2017), Colorado State University

Primary Fields: Political Economy, Public Economics, and Environmental Economics

M.A., Economics, Colorado State University, May 2012

B.A., Economics, The Ohio State University, August 2009

Teaching Experience

Instructor, Summer 2013-present

Colorado State University, Fort Collins, CO

- Courses taught: Public Finance, Money and Banking, Gender in the Economy, Principles of Macroeconomics
- Designed and delivered course material including lectures, exams, homework assignments, and writing assignments
- Instructed both online and on-campus classes
- Taught 2-3 sections per semester
- Managed and mentored teaching assistants

Graduate Teaching Assistant, Fall 2010- Spring 2013

Colorado State University, Fort Collins, CO

- Conducted recitation sections of both Principles of Microeconomics and Macroeconomics three times per week
- Assisted students during office hours and scheduled appointments
- Graded written work including homework assignments, exams, and term papers

Teaching Interests

· Public Finance
· Gender Economics

· Environmental Economics
· Microeconomics/Macroeconomics

Dissertation

“Three Essays on Connections between Personal Life and Economic Outcomes”

“Sexual Orientation, Sexual History, and Inequality in the United States”

“Will the Kids Be All Right? The Effects of Parental Divorce on Income”

“The Burdens of Student Debt: Are Student Loans Keeping Young Adults from Moving On with Life?”

Awards

Outstanding Graduate Teaching Award, Department of Economics, Colorado State University, Spring 2015.

Dissertation Fellowship, Department of Economics, Colorado State University, Summer 2015.

Research Interests

- Gender wage inequality
- Student loan debt
- Economic impacts of natural resource extraction
- Public policy and optimal taxation

Publications

Keyser, David, Ethan Warner, and Christina Curley. “Quantification of the Potential Gross Economic Impacts of Five Methane Reduction Scenarios.” 2015. NREL/TP-6A50-63801. National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL), Golden, CO (US)

Submissions

“Sexual Orientation, Sexual History, and Inequality in the United States.” (revised and resubmitted)

Conference and Seminar Presentations

“Sexual Orientation, Sexual History, and Inequality in the United States”, Economics Department Seminar Series, Colorado State University, Fort Collins (October 16th, 2015).

“Will the Kids Be All Right? The Effect of Parental Divorce on Income”, International Association for Feminist Economics conference, Berlin (July 16th, 2015).

“Sexual Orientation and Workplace Discrimination”, International Association for Feminists Economics conference, Palo Alto (June 13th, 2013).

Extracurricular and Community Service

Queer Women Engaging in an Encouraging Nexus (QWEEN) Faculty Adviser, Fall 2014-Fall 2015

Association of Graduate Economists, Fall 2013-Present

Kids Café Kitchen Volunteer, Larimer County Food Bank, September 2014-May 2015

References

Alexandra Bernasek (Chair of dissertation committee)
Economics Department
Colorado State University
Alexandra.Bernasek@colostate.edu
(970) 491-3321

Karen Gebhardt
Department of Economics
Colorado State University
Karen.Gebhardt@colostate.edu
(970) 491-3970

Sammy Zahran
Economics Department
Colorado State University
Sammy.Zahran@colostate.edu
(970) 491-1877