Ph.D. (Rhetoric), Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, PA, 1990. Dissertation: The Lexicon of the Classroom: Language and Learning in Writing Classrooms.

B.A. (English, Political Science, Writing), St. Olaf College, Northfield, MN, 1980

Accomplishments

Founded the WAC Clearinghouse (wac.colostate.edu), one of the most successful open-access publishing collaboratives in the humanities, which provides free access to more than 85 scholarly books and several academic journals.

Served as founding director of Colorado State University's Institute for Learning and Teaching from 2006 to 2014, growing the staff to more than 25 and leading the development of 10 successful programs. As part of the larger Student Success Initiative, contributed to significant growth in student retention rates.

Served as director of CSU Online from February 2014 to October 2017, leading a successful financial turnaround (from an operating budget deficit of $1.7 million to a surplus of $1.6 million while increasing staffing by nearly 20 percent) and increasing overall revenue to the university by more than $5 million per year. Contributed to establishing strong relations with leading Chinese universities.

Author of leading textbooks for composition courses, developer of several courses and degree programs at Colorado State University, and director of the long-running Writing@CSU project (writing.colostate.edu).

Awards

Computers and Composition Distinguished Book Award, 2007. Awarded to Writing and Digital Media, edited by Luuk Van Waes, Mariëlle Leijten and Christine M. Neuwirth. Role: Author of the chapter, "Rethinking Instructional Metaphors for Web-Based Writing Environments."

Outstanding Technology Innovator, 2006. Awarded by the CCCC Committee on Computers in Composition and Communication for serving as "an exemplar for teachers working with computer technologies", representing "the highest ideals of scholarship, teaching, and service to the entire profession," and contributing "to the application and use of computer technology in the field of composition studies."

Distinction in Advancement Award, 2005. Awarded by the Colorado State University College of Liberal Arts for service in advancement.

Charles Moran Award for Distinguished Contributions to the Field, 2004 Awarded by Computers and Composition for "exemplary scholarship and professional service to the field of computers and writing."

Computers and Writing Technology Design Competition: Best Overall Winner for Rhetoric, Literature and Writing; 2002 for Research Assistant/HyperFolio for English, by Mike Palmquist and Learn Technologies Interactive, published by Bedford/St. Martin's. This award recognizes the best overall software in the Technology Design Competition at the Computers and Writing national conference.

Kairos Best Webtext Award, Runner-Up, 2001: Palmquist, M., and Barnes, L. (2000). The Online Writing Center Consortium. This award recognizes the best Web sites addressing technology and writing.

University Distinguished Teaching Scholar, Colorado State University, July 2000. This designation is given to 12 faculty members at CSU for the duration of their association with the university.

N. Preston Davis Award for Instructional Innovation, Colorado State University, Spring 1999. This award is given annually to one faculty member or academic program in recognition of instructional innovation.

Oliver P. Pennock Distinguished Service Award, Colorado State University, Fall 1998. This award is given to five faculty annually in recognition of significant service to the University.

Kairos Best Webtext Award, 1998: Palmquist, M., Hochman, W., Kolko, B., Golson, E., Alexander, J., Barnes, L., and Kiefer, K. (1997). Hypertext reflections: Exploring the rhetoric, poetics, and pragmatics of hypertext. Kairos: A Journal for Teachers of Writing in Webbed Environments. 2(2). <http://english.ttu.edu/kairos/>. This award recognizes the best Web-based article addressing technology and writing.

Geneva State Open Competition on the Use of Telecommunications in Education and Training, Commended, Institutional Projects Category (tied with three other entries for second): Palmquist, M.E., Rodrigues, D., Kiefer, K., and Zimmerman, D.E. (1993). Developing an Online Writing Center: A Technological Approach to Writing Across the Curriculum.
